

PLAYS TO SUIT EVERY TASTE ON PROGRAM

Harlequin Players and Dramatic Arts Club Present First Joint Entertainment in Auditorium.

FOUR ONE-ACT PLAYS

Original Works, Including Comedy, Tragedy, Pastime and Fantasy, Are Played for First Time.

Plays to suit every mood of an appreciating audience were given last night in the University Auditorium by the Harlequin Players and the Dramatic Arts Club. This was the first joint program given by these two organizations. All of the four original one-act plays that were presented were well received by the audience. The scenery was appropriate, considering the lack of material with which the players had to contend and the costumes well fitted the needs of the plays.

The play which was the best received by the audience and perhaps deserves the most praise as far as the acting is concerned was a tragedy, written by Martha Cheavens and directed by W. J. Pollard. The drama was called "Before Mass" with the scene laid in the home of a Mexican priest, the priest's part being acted by W. J. Pollard. Pedro, the servant of the priest was characterized by Darrell Starnes and Dolores, the other character in the play was taken by Miss Dorothy Duffey. At no time throughout the acting of this play did the audience become uninterested and restless.

COMEDY BY MISS WEEKS
"The Other Half," a comedy by Elizabeth Weeks opened the program. This was also directed by Mr. Pollard. While laughable in parts, owing to the clever acting of the characters and some interesting lines which the players had, the plot was as impossible as a tie in the student election—it could happen only once in thousands of times. The characters were portrayed as follows: Ada Lowery, played by Miss Ella Wyatt; Tripp by Clarence Morris and Chalmers by Ellis Atteberry. The office boy's part was taken by Morris Gumbiner.

"Bluebeard," a burlesque pantomime, written by Miriam Thurman and Hazel George Newman was directed by Miss Helen D. Gault. The pantomime was on the Early English style with the earlier Harlequin pervading the action, appearing in the comic scenes which alternated throughout the piece with the serious which formed the backbone of the story. If any criticism could be given it was that there was too much action on the stage to watch at the same time. Bluebeard was taken by Miss Leona Miller and the other characters were as follows: Bluebeard's wife, Hazel George Newman; Sister Anne, Arlene Brown; Slave Boy, Orion Johnson; Brothers, Frances Baine and Margaret Way.

A FANTASY PRESENTED
The most elaborate of the four plays was a fantasy called "Behind the Moon" written by Miss Mary Webster and directed by Mrs. E. R. Hedrick. Prof. H. S. Bill was well placed in the difficult role of Dream Man and Miss Hazel George Newman made a beautiful princess who had been refused the privilege of having dreams by her father the king, who was played by Prof. G. H. Sabine. Prof. E. R. Hedrick and Gladys Wheat played the SENTRY and the Kitchen Maid respectively. Three dancers in the fantasy were Misses Arlene Brown, Orion Johnson and Leona Miller. The dance was cleverly placed. A fairy love song was sung in the wings by S. N. Alm, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. H. S. Bill. Miss Gladys Wheat designed the scenery, costumes and the lighting effect. Others listed on the program were: Prof. J. E. Wrench, V. C. Wait, P. W. McCormick, E. F. Trunk, J. M. Hannegan and Prof. E. B. Branson.

AT THE THEATERS

Hall.
Tonight and Saturday—Hope Hampton appears in the stellar role in "Star-dust," a screen adaptation of the book by Fannie Hurst. The narrative deals with a woman who was unwilling to make the sacrifices of love and submit to the shackles imposed by witchhood. However, in the end she is made to see the light and find that real happiness does not lie in gratifying one's selfish desires.

"Pardon Me," a lively Sunshine comedy, will conclude the program.

Columbia.
Tonight and Saturday—"Hail the Woman," a First National attraction produced by Thomas Luce, carries practically an all-star cast, which includes Florence Vidor, Theodore Roberts, Tully Marshall and Charles Meredith. The story centers around Oliver Beresford, a grim and bigoted New England farmer who values his son high above his daughters. His son, David, who is studying for the ministry, secretly marries one of the village girls. When Beresford hears of the wedding and realizing that it will interfere with his son's career he buys off the girl's father and induces David to desert his wife. Success of their plans followed for a short time, but at the close of the play both father and son repented for the injustice they had done to the girl.

"Sweetheart Days," produced by Mack Sennett, is the comedy attraction.

Cozy.
Tonight Only—"The Breaking Point," featuring Bessie Barriscale, is a picture of the life lived in the highest social sets. Miss Barriscale plays the role of Ruth Marshall, a girl who, upon learning of the death of the man to whom she was engaged, contracts a marriage of convenience with Richard Janeway, a wealthy idler. He tires of her shortly after their marriage and the only link which binds them together is a child. Ruth's entire life centers about her baby, and when she learns that her husband is planning to take the child from her and sail for Europe with an old flame, she takes a desperate step to prevent his doing so; a step which leads her to ultimate happiness. Walter McGrail, Joseph Dowling and Wilfred Lucas are included in the supporting cast.

"A Family Affair," a comedy, will open the program.
Saturday Only—William S. Hart appears in a tense story of western life, "Between Men." Hart is seen at his best as a marksman and cowboy.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

SCOUTS WILL TAKE PART IN FARMERS' FAIR
The Boy Scout Troops in Columbia will have an exhibit in the Farmers' Fair and a part in the parade. This was arranged by L. F. Wainwright, in charge of the educational exhibits of the fair, and L. D. Pollock, who has charge of the riding contest, at a meeting last night of all the scout troops.

The boys are enthusiastic over the prospect of entering ponies in the parade and taking part in the fair. There will be about six entries in the riding contest. In the Boy Scout corner of the educational tent on the pike there will be a lean-to and camp scene staged by Troop 3, a matchless fire-making contest by Troop 4 and a first aid demonstration by Troop 5.

All scouts are asked by Owen Howells to meet on Rollins Field at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to practice for their part in the Farmers' Fair. L. D. Pollock wishes to meet all boys, whether scouts or not, who desire to enter ponies in the parade and contest, at the Y. M. C. A.

at 4 o'clock on Monday. The entrants will be given tickets to all of the big shows on the pike.

Troop 3 will meet in the Y. M. C. A. tonight for a short meeting, from 7 to 8 o'clock. Plans will be made for taking second class tests and for building the lean-to to be used in the educational tent at the Farmer's Fair.

HALF HOLIDAY FOR KIDDIES

Schools Out Tuesday Afternoon for Showing of War Picture.

Columbia school children will be dismissed Tuesday afternoon to attend a special matinee showing of the official Signal Corps motion picture, entitled "Powder River." The film, brought here under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be shown at the Columbia theater April 4 and 5.

W. I. Oliver, superintendent of city schools, feels that all school children should be given an opportunity to see the pictures showing the action of American troops in the World War.

Two reels of the picture were captured by the British from a German submarine and show actual scenes of the raiding expeditions of that boat. Five allied vessels are shown while they were being sunk by the Germans.

According to A. C. Geeson, who has seen the picture in Kansas City, the film is unusually good for its clearness and the closeness of the cameras to the action.

The R. O. T. C. unit will not have a formation Tuesday afternoon, in order to permit its members to see the picture. Prices will be fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for children.
